Glenn Hatch and O. H. Blodgett of Cabot were among the business visitors in Barre yesterday.

Evelyn Gilbertson of 40 Beacon street left this morning for Greenfield, Mass., having secured employment at the home of Dr. Millett.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Noonan and Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Burke have returned from Boston, where they have been for the past few days.

Miss Josephine Fontana arrived this afternoon from Rye, where she is employed as teacher. She will visit at her home on Central street.

Arthur Wilson of Springfield, formerly of Barre, who has been visiting his brother, Harold Wilson of Church street, returned home this morning.

Walter Rizi of Blackwell street was able to return to high school to-day after a two weeks' confinement for bronchitis at his home on Blackwell street.

William Manson of Dorchester, Mass., who for the past few days has been renewing acquaintances in Barre and vicinity, returned yesterday to Dorchester.

Mrs. A. Pechee, sister of Mrs. A. J. Lorange of 106 Summer street, returned this morning to her home in Schuylerville, N. Y., having passed three months in this city with her sister.

Valuable Main street real estate at auction Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. See adv. on page 7. Buy before the advance on real estate, which is sure to come. Ask your banker. D. A. Perry, auctioneer.

The children taking part in the Christmas concert at the Presbyterian church are requested to make their rehearsal at the church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Parents are asked to co-operate and see that their children attend every rehearsal.

J. R. Harvey, who formerly resided on "the hill," has been visiting his many friends for the past few days. Mr. Harvey came from his home in Boston to attend the funeral of Robert Merrill Nutbrown. He left last night for Leeds, P. Q., where he will visit his father, who is ill, before returning to his home. Mr. Harvey is a successful contractor and truckman as well as a dealer in horses in the Hub.

Miss Elizabeth Paul was given a linen shower at the home of Miss Nellie Slora on Green street last evening in honor of her approaching marriage to Alex McKenna. A very enjoyable evening was spent with about 25 ladies present. An impromptu program, musical and literary, was given, nearly all of the party exercising their talent. Miss Paul was presented in behalf of the party by Miss Nellie Slora, a number of pieces of fine linen. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and wafers were served at 10:30. Mrs. Jack Paul, Mrs. George Slora and Mrs. Annie Webster served the lunch.

Concerning the accident at South Royton when an automobile truck went through a covered bridge and killed the driver, a South Royton item in the Randolph Herald and News says: "The truck belonging to the Hamblett Trucking Co. of Woonsocket, R. I., which broke through the bridge on the first branch of White river on Wednesday of last week, has been raised from the river bed and loaded onto the cars, preparatory to shipping it to Rhode Island. The monument, which was on the truck, has also been recovered and shipped back to its makers, Jones Brothers, in Barre. It was found to have been badly damaged by its fall. The owner of the truck, E. J. Letendere, and a mechanic from Woonsocket were here the last of the week to superintend the recovery of the truck. The weight of the truck and its load exceeded the limit allowed by the state law for highway bridges by several hundred pounds."

Though the mercury has been receding from the freezing point, the masonry work at the Peerless factory building progresses daily, and the masons are now busy with the masonry work of the second story. Concrete window lintels were needed, so in order to continue this work in cold weather it became necessary to install a steam heating plant in the basement, where mortar and other materials are kept from freezing. The basement is entirely closed in and the temperature in that part of the structure kept above freezing.

Thirteen masons employed at the work are supplied with mortar directly from the heated basement by means of an electrical power hoist installed for that purpose. Connections for the sprinkler fire protection system have been installed and connection with one of the city's six-inch mains has been made. Another that with the 12-inch South Main street main, will be made during some night very soon. The water department will inform the residents of that district beforehand. The McFarland spring water has also been piped to the building.
